

Changing a phone number on a farm site

The worked example: East Bench Pivot Farm, a demonstration site. Its number changes from (307) 555-0142 to (307) 555-0199. A real owner uses their real number.

Green: what the public sees • Orange: how it is built • Blue: what you type • Gray: one click

Before you start, you need: the owner, with the new number written down; the site keeper, an adult (Claude accounts are for ages 18 and up), at the computer that keeps the site; about ten minutes. You lead steps 1 to 4 and 8. The keeper types steps 5, 6 and 9 and does the publishing in step 7, while you and the owner watch and read along. Nobody touches code: the change is described in plain words, and Claude makes it.

- 1 Open the farm's page. Go to gyro-sites.online/sites/east-bench-farm. Leave Intro ticked; the number shows under the title: "call or text (307) 555-0142." This is what every customer sees. You are about to change it in all the places it appears at once.
- 2 Find where the number appears. Tick Info and type the old number into the page's search box. On this farm it appears twice: under the title, and in the answer "Where are you, and when can I come?" Tell the owner: "It's in two places. Both will change."
- 3 Follow the orange link. Scroll to the very bottom and click built by Auto-Gyro. This is the Orange page: how every GYR-O site is built and kept. Show the owner its last step, "It is yours from then on. To change a line, edit it and publish." That is what you are about to do. Orange is the color of the build. It appears on a finished site only once, in that link.
- 4 Open the workflow page from it. On the Orange page, click one task, one site, one log. The farm lives inside the gyro-sites.online lane. Its first prompt box has a Copy button.
- 5 The keeper starts a new task in Claude and pastes that first prompt.

Resume gyro-sites.online – read the rehydration log.

Claude reads the site's own log, so it knows where everything is. Nothing depends on it remembering.

6 The keeper describes the change, in the owner's words if possible.

On East Bench Pivot Farm, change the phone number from (307) 555-0142 to (307) 555-0199 everywhere it appears, and rebuild its PDF.

Read Claude's answer together. It should say it changed two places and rebuilt the PDF. If it says one, or three, ask why before going on.

7 The keeper publishes. Double-click PUBLISH - ALL SITES on the desktop. A Terminal window opens, works for a few seconds, and closes itself. That's it; there is nothing to log in to.

8 Check it, about a minute later. Open the farm's page and press Cmd+Shift+R once, to skip the old copy your browser kept. Look in both places from step 2, then click Download PDF and check the number there too.

9 The keeper closes out.

Close out – update the rehydration log.

This writes down what changed, so the next person, or the owner next year, can pick up where you left off.

If something looks wrong

- The old number still shows. Wait another minute and press Cmd+Shift+R again. Publishing takes about a minute to reach the web.
- The new number is wrong. The keeper describes the fix to Claude, publishes, and you check again. Nothing is ever lost; every earlier version is kept.
- The owner wants something else changed while you are there. One change at a time: finish this one, check it, then describe the next.
- You are unsure. Stop and ask. Your job is to show how it works and listen to what the owner thinks, not to get every step perfect.
